Writings are the soul of the human mind.
The soul is the seat of the intellect and the seat of the emotions.
The soul is the seat of the will and the seat of the passions.
The soul is the seat of the conscience and the seat of the moral sense.
The soul is the seat of the imagination and the seat of the creative power.
The soul is the seat of the memory and the seat of the experience.
The soul is the seat of the personality and the seat of the individuality.
The soul is the seat of the life and the seat of the death.
